CORFU HIGHLIGHTS

The Achilleion Palace of Corfu

The Achilleion Palace is beautifully situated in the charming village of Gastouri. Constructed in 1890 for Elisabeth (Sissy), the former Empress of Austria, this splendid palace is a true gem.

A Unique Palace with Rich Exhibits

Visitors can explore a distinctive palace filled with fascinating exhibits from ancient civilization.

Kaiser Observatory, or Kaiser's Throne

Kaiser Observatory, also known as Kaiser's Throne, stands majestically on a rocky platform, offering a breathtaking panoramic view.

This observatory, which overlooks the pinnacle of the Pelekas settlement, is the final and most intricate creation of Kaiser Wilhelm II, the philhellenic emperor of Germany.

Paleokastritsa Monastery

Perched on a lush green hill overlooking the beach of Paleokastritsa on the northwestern coast of Corfu, there is an impressive monastery complex dedicated to Panagia, or the Virgin Mary.

This majestic monastery commands the surrounding area and, situated on a secluded hill, it provides breathtaking views of the island and the shimmering sea.
